JUDGE TO SPEAK AT FAIRFIELD

Judge W. C. Sheely, chairman of the Adams County Council of Defense, will be one of the speakers Tuesday at the first public air raid spotter meeting to be held in Fairfield. The session will be held in the Fairfield high school at 8 p. m.

Theodore A. Low, chief observer for aircraft spotter post Number 202-F, at Fairfield, said the meeting was being held for two reasons; to give instruction to the spotters already on the post and to secure additional spotters so the post can run on a 24-hour schedule. The observation center was set up over a year ago and is operating 22 hours a day.

Lieutenant Hooks, of the U. S. Signal Corps, attached to the army air force ground observer section, will also be a speaker. He will talk on "Army and Red Flash messages and Aircraft Recognition." Lt. Col. Hafer Is New State Draft Head Harrisburg, April 5 (AP)—Lieutenant Col. George Hafer today succeeded Col. B. F. Evans as acting director of the Pennsylvania Selective Service system for an indefinite time.

Governor Martin disclosed the transfer at his press conference, saying that General Lewis B. Hershey, National Selective Service head, had requested Evans' aid in Washington "to do certain things." The chief executive said the switch was decided upon while General Hershey was in Harrisburg over the week-end, adding "we are trying to make every contribution to the war effort we can."

The Governor said he did not know how long Evans would be in Washington. Lieutenant Col. Hafer is a former Harrisburg attorney and former National Guards officer.

Colonel Hafer is a native of Abbotstown and a graduate of Gettysburg college in the class of 1925.

Survey Indicates Housewives Will Curtail Meat Weekdays

Rationing or no rationing, Adams county's residents are going to have that big Sunday dinner with a roast or steak as the main dish.

But the meals will probably be a little slim the remainder of the week.

That decision was reported today by county meat market and grocery store owners selling meat. The meat dealers reached the conclusion when they closed shop Saturday night after having sold "nearly as much meat as last Saturday."

A survey of meat dealers today disclosed that even those with meat to sell found buying exceedingly light during the first four days of last week. On Friday meat sales increased and Saturday business reached normal or better than normal proportions.

Average Buying Up

Several dealers who were unable to secure meat before Thursday reported they wished they had ordered more supplies for the week-end. They had anticipated less than normal demand, they said, and had not purchased as much meat as they could have secured.

Most butchers said that supplies of meat purchased during the "wild rush" of buying last week-end, before meat was rationed, had been nearly exhausted by Friday.

All agreed however, that the average housewife purchased more than she normally would if she were spreading out the coupons to last over a week.

Many said customers told them they were planning a traditionally large meal with meat as the main course, over week-ends while the meals during the remainder of the week would be based on vegetables and other non-rationed foods.

Court Order Ends 7-Year-Old Case

A case of fraudulent conversion laid in 1936 against C. R. Good, formerly of Gettysburg, was closed Saturday in an order of court handed down by Judge W. C. Sheely.

The order stated that "since the defendant is now employed in Puerto Rico and outside the jurisdiction of the court, we order the case closed."

Good had been charged with converting to his own use $1,375.08 which he had collected as an agent for an oil company here. On August 29, 1936, he was found guilty, sentence was suspended, and he was ordered to make restitution. He was placed on probation for five years at that time.

R.C. WAR FUND BIGGEST EVER IN THIS COUNTY

The Adams county Red Cross, in its current second War Fund drive, has received more donations than in any other single drive in its history, it was disclosed by local Red Cross officials today.

With the drive reaching $19,293.82 this morning, the county had topped by over $2,000 the previous high contribution. In 1918, during the second war fund drive of the first World war, $17,052.98 was collected. The county Red Cross, from its inception April 17, 1917 until January 1, 1920, collected $46,423.60 in the various drives.

The Red Cross also expected membership in the county organization to reach new highs, with approximately 6,000 persons securing membership during the current campaign. A check on members made about two weeks ago showed 3,156 persons in the organization. Members of the staff were engaged today in counting the hundreds of contributions to the current drive in order to fill out the membership lists. Every person who gave $1 or more to the drive will receive a membership in the county group.

Districts Set Records

In 1941 the county chapter secured $4,723.81 from its Roll Call drive and $13,000 for the first War Fund drive of the present war. The latter drive lasted from December 17 to September 12.

While no record was kept prior to this year of contributions by districts, county officials stated today they are "sure" every district has exceeded the amount turned in during last year's drive.

The list of contributions by districts to date is as follows:

District	Amount

More Donations

A few contributions, made directly to national Red Cross, but credited to the county organization, are not listed by districts. All of the districts, it was stated, include surrounding townships and towns.

Included among the contributions today were $23.96 additional turned in by the Fairfield committee and $3 additional from the Little Thursday Bridge club.

M. E. SPRINGER DIES OF STROKE

Milton Earle Springer, 68, night clerk at the Hotel Gettysburg since last November, died at 6:15 o'clock this morning at the Warner hospital following a stroke he suffered last Wednesday.

Mr. Springer was born in York county, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John F. Springer.

The deceased served in the Spanish-American war and the Philippine insurrection and at the conclusion of those hostilities remained in the Philippines. He served in the United States Engineers' office in Manila and the insular treasurer's office. He later engaged in the hardware business and became president of the Manila Chamber of Commerce. He was a director of the Philippine National bank, the Philippine railroad and managed the Army-Navy club in Manila. He was deputy commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and was post commander at Manila.

Veteran Hotelman

He lost a hemp plantation when the Japs invaded the Philippines.

Mr. Springer served in many capacities in the hotel industry and managed large hotels in this country and in Panama. He was enjoying a vacation in Costa Rica, after returning from business, when he was asked to return to the hotel business because of a shortage of employees. He said that he felt it his "patriotic duty" to serve again, despite his advanced age, and accepted the position.

Paris, Kiel Are Pounded In Raids By Big Bombers

London, April 5 (AP)—A great force of United States Flying Fortresses headed across the Strait of Dover this afternoon, indicating another big daylight attack on the continent in the wake of yesterday's American bombing near Paris and a heavy RAP raid on Kiel, Germany.

The four-motored bombers, flying in closely-knit formations, roared over the sunny water for the continuous day and night pounding of the German war machine in the air offensive.

Bomb Renault Works

Only yesterday the Flying Fortresses smashed at the Renault works near Paris and last night a mighty RAF force followed through with the Kiel attack in which unofficial observers estimated a thousand tons of bombs or more were dropped.

Five formations of Fortresses were counted crossing the southeast coast today, flying between 15,000 and 20,000 feet.

Residents of Folkestone stopped in the streets to watch the planes which formed one of the most powerful Allied attacking forces they had witnessed crossing over their town.

Twelve British bombers failed to return from last night's attack on Kiel.

The German communique today, as broadcast by the Berlin radio, said several hundred were dead and wounded in the Paris area, as a result of the raid by American Flying Fortresses.

Indescribable Panic

The Paris radio later in the day asserted the number of injured alone had risen to more than 1,000, including 200 seriously hurt.

The communique claimed destruction of 19 invading planes over Paris and over the Norwegian coast and 10 more over western Germany. The Allies gave no confirmation of raids over Norway.

The Berlin radio also broadcast a dispatch from Paris referring to the Renault bombing as a "terror raid." This dispatch, as heard by The Associated Press, quoted an eyewitness account as saying an underground railway station packed with hundreds who had fled there.

13 Japanese Ships Ruined Or Dispersed In S. Pacific

(By The Associated Press)

Flying Fortresses which never numbered more than 10 in three moonlight raids on Kavieng, New Ireland, 550 miles northeast of Port Moresby, have destroyed or dispersed a Japanese Naval concentration of 13 warships and merchantmen, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

Eight of the ships in the concentration caught on Silver bay and nearby waters were warships, and at least two cruisers and two destroyers were sunk, successive communiques from Australia have announced.

Three Attacks

For this considerable victory the Americans suffered only damage to some of their planes.

The last blow in the attack, which began Thursday night, was struck last night when eight Fortresses swept in for the third time and damaged a light cruiser or destroyer and possibly damaged three other ships.

While some of the Fortresses were skip-bombing the ships—attacking from so low a level that their bombs skipped along the water and hit the ships in the sides—others neutralized the Kavieng airport.

Elsewhere in the Australian theater, Allied airmen planted 20 tons of bombs among Japanese positions in the Markham valley above Lae, strafed the Salamaua and Kitchen creek areas, and struck at Timika in Dutch New Guinea, Langsoer in the Kae islands and Saumlaki in the Tanimbar islands to the northwest, as well as other targets to the northeast.

8 Raids on Kiska

The Sunday communique of the Navy department announced a series of eight raids on Kiska in the northern Pacific and an additional assault by Liberator four-motored bombers on Attu in the Aleutians. Kiska already had been bombed 38 times in the past month, but the Navy did not report the damage in detail.

Pacific fleet headquarters at Pearl Harbor today credited Navy and Marine divebombers and torpedo planes at Guadalcanal with sinking at least 17 Japanese ships in the six months beginning Aug. 25. At least 68 other ships were damaged, the Navy said.

All Flying Forts Return From Biggest Raid On Port

By DANIEL DE LUCE

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, April 5 (AP)—U. S. flying fortresses smashed Naples in the greatest raid of the war against that Tyrrenian sea supply port yesterday as the American Second army corps repulsed a German counterattack in the El Guetar sector and continued the drive toward a junction with the British Eighth army, it was announced today.

Nearly 100 of the four-engine fortress from Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle's northwest African strategic air force stole the show yesterday afternoon with the raid on Naples, the first against the base from French North African bases.

Severe Port Damage

Naples had been raided five times by Liberators from the Middle East, but sources here said yesterday's attack was four times as heavy as any of the previous forays and all planes returned safely.

It was officially announced that 21 ships were hit in the harbor of that Axis supply port, as well as three submarines, a floating dock and a cluster of small vessels. Explosives loosed by the fortresses hit 21 aircraft parked on the Capodichino air field nearby.

Only last Wednesday a similar force of fortresses had attacked the port of Cagliari and air fields of southern Sardinia in an attempt to snarl the Axis lifelines across the Mediterranean to Field Marshal (Please Turn to Page 5)

Van Steenberg; bass fiddle: Ira Donham and pianists J. R. Clark and R. G. Griffee. Elmer Smith is the vocalist and Burton Terry is the director.

Special Program

The musicians will render a program of popular and patriotic selections.

For two weeks the twelve young men have been devoting part of their limited spare time to rehearsals. They had never played together until they started their organization after arriving here a month ago. Then, they had to find instruments and from what they were able to muster they formed their organization.

They will make their first public appearance at the play Friday evening.

On Saturday evening the same play will be repeated for the faculty and students of the college.

PUBLIC MORALE GREAT PROBLEM FOR NAZI HEADS

By DE WITT MACKENZIE

Viscount Halifax, British Ambassador to Washington, who speaks what he thinks very freely, made the interesting prediction during the week-end down at Sheffield, Alabama, that "when the German war machine begins to crack, a great part of it may go at once, and the end may come more suddenly than some of us thought six months ago."

Right here it should be emphasized that Lord Halifax wouldn't venture a guess as to the probable length of the war, and I'm not commenting on his prediction for the purpose of suggesting that the end is at hand. On the contrary, we have a bitter struggle ahead of us. The Ambassador explained this:

"We know that Germany is under great stress in her man power. She has suffered huge losses in Russia, and she is finding it increasingly difficult to keep the conquered countries in subjection.

Halifax Knows Germany

"In whatever direction you look, you see that strain growing in Germany. Her war machine is so delicately balanced that when the stress and strain become too great, and the first crack occurs, a great part of the machine may go."

Lord Halifax knows his Germany well, and history supports his idea. The German machine went to pieces suddenly in the last war. Then there was a crack of morale both in the fighting forces and among the civilian population. That civilian morale is of the utmost importance for when it gives way the whole machine is likely to collapse.

Don't Know Losses

Of late the Nazi authorities have been showing uneasiness over public morale. Evidence of this is found in the broadcasts for home consumption which are picked up by listening-posts in this country.

Hitler and his minions have been codding public morale. For instance, the people have no idea of their huge losses on the battlefields, because we've heard the fuhrer himself lie like a trooper about casualties in his speeches. Then thousands upon thousands of wounded soldiers are being cared for in hospitals outside the Reich, so that their home folk don't know what goes on. In like manner the Nazi setbacks in the fighting are camouflaged.

Didn't Know Facts

That same thing went on in the last war until the people learned the truth and the balloon exploded. I went into Cologne with the British Army at the time of the armistice. There the Revolutionary Socialist committee invited me into one of its meetings. The members wanted to know why the Allies weren't rushing food and other supplies to needy Germany. They were amazed when I explained that the Allies were busy caring for starving people in the territories devastated by the German armies.

"We didn't know there was any devastation or hunger," exclaimed the chairman. "Our authorities assured us that there was nothing of the sort. We've been deceived. Now we understand why the Allies haven't been able to send supplies sooner."

One of the clever morale builders of the First World war was the faking of pictures of the Kaiser in "front line" trenches. The pictures were taken at Spa, Belgium, far from the sound of the big guns. A trench was dug across an open field. Then German soldiers started a fierce battle, while the all highest swanked about in the trench, and even on a parapet, midst shot and shell.

Lies Won't Stick

The German people were fed all sorts of bunk in the last war until they learned the truth. Then they cracked. The same thing is happening now through the loud mouth of Propaganda Minister Goebbels. By the way, I've heard him harangue a crowd of fifty thousand, and he certainly can spell bind 'em.

But he can't make his lies stick forever. It's the truth that will crack the morale of the Germans—the knowledge that no matter how long they hang on they haven't a chance to win. There are some things Goebbels can't conceal—for instance, the fierce bombing of Reich cities which continued over the week-end.

Paris, Kiel

when the air raid alert was sounded, received a direct hit.

"The walls collapsed," said this broadcast. "The panic which followed is indescribable."

The number of dead here was not listed in the dispatch, which said 12 were killed in another railway station and 10 elsewhere.

When questioned by local officers they said they had "flunked" high school examinations, and rather than go home to their parents, had decided to go to New York to seek "a defense job."

Wire Fencing Goes Off Ration List

Wire fencing of all types is no longer included in the list of items rationed by county farm rationing committees, it was announced today by H. F. Snyder, chairman of the Adams county USDA War Board. Food Production Order No. 3, it was explained, has been amended to exclude this item from the rationing list.

It will no longer be necessary for those wishing to purchase wire fencing to make application for purchase certificates either to farm rationing committees or dealers. In the past, dealers had been acting as agents for the rationing committees in issuing purchase certificates. Purchases may now be made, without a purchase certificate, from any stock of fencing on hand.

Mrs. George McBride, McKeesport, who christened the destroyer escort, U.S.S. Scott, at the Philadelphia Navy yard on Saturday, dined at Thompson's restaurant, Carlisle street, Sunday.

Also in the party were her husband, one of their five sons in the Navy, George, Jr., a son-in-law, Edward Humphreys, and Mrs. L. D. Breilinger.

Three of the McBride sons, George, Eugene and Francis, were granted leaves to attend the christening. Two other sons, Emmett and Terry, are somewhere at sea.

TO PROBE ARMY "HOARDING" OF FOOD, SUPPLIES

Washington, April 5 (AP)—An inquiry into what Chairman Truman (D-Mo) described as "Army hoarding" of foodstuffs and supplies that otherwise would have been available to civilians was projected today by the Senate War Investigating committee.

The group called officials of the Army Quartermaster Corps for testimony behind closed doors as other Senate committees arranged to hear witnesses on a half dozen controversial questions ranging from post war monetary problems to a proposal to require Senate confirmation of all federal employees paid more than $4,500 yearly.

Truman told reporters his committee had received information indicating that the Army had overbought heavily in canned goods and various other commodities, pinching the commercial markets. He said he was interested in getting some of these supplies turned loose.

Resume Tire Hearings

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, meanwhile, scheduled an appearance before a joint meeting of Finance, Foreign Relations, Banking and Currency and Postwar Economic committee for a discussion of postwar financial problems. Most senators thought Morgenthau's immediate intent was to obtain congressional approval for continuation of the Treasury's $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund and the President's long unused power to devalue the dollar by reducing its gold content.

The Senate Small Business committee planned resumption of hearings on a measure which would channel all civilian sales of new, rebuilt, retreaded and recapped tires through independent dealers.

The Senate Appropriations committee apparently was prepared to approve speedily a revised measure authorizing a $26,000,000 expenditure through the Agricultural Extension Service for the recruitment of farm workers.

BULLETINS

Washington, April 5 (AP)—Secretary of State Hull told Congress today that the United States must demonstrate now its "sincerity of purpose" and willingness to bear its share of responsibility in world affairs by extending the administration's authority to write reciprocal trade agreements.

London, April 5 (AP)—Three leaders of the former republic of France—Edouard Daladier, Leon Blum and Gen. Maurice Gustave Gamelin—have been claimed by the German government as hostages and removed to a German prison to prevent the "establishment of a counter-government" under Allied auspices, the Berlin radio announced last night.

Harrisburg, April 5 (AP)—Governor Martin told David L. Lawrence, Democratic state chairman today that the present session of the Legislature "will quite likely pass resolutions favoring some plan for enduring peace."

Brothers Enter V-Garden Business

Harrisburg, April 5 (AP)—Two teen-aged youths from suburban New Cumberland have gone into business with a home-fashioned tractor to plow up Victory Gardens for their friends and neighbors.

Paul Baublitz, a future machinist, and his brother Stanley, who hopes to be a farmer, took a 1928 automobile from a junk pile, shortened the wheel base, rebuilt the motor and attached a plow.

Paul's job is to keep the contraption functioning while Stanley supervises the actual plowing.

More Fishermen And Fish, Too, In '43

From all indications there will not only be more fish in the county streams this year, but there will be more fishermen than in 1942, County Treasurer John W. Brehm said today.

A tabulation of the number of fishing licenses issued so far shows that 416 disciples of Isaac Walton are all ready for the opening of trout season on April 15. Last year only 330 persons had applied for permits to fish up to the present date. The number of fishermen licensed so far is nearly one half of the 867 who secured resident licenses last year.

The fishermen should have a better season this year than last for reports of the Adams County Fish and Game association show that over 13,000 fish have been stocked in six streams in the county.

FOOD will win the war

Lack of Sufficient Food Could Easily Lose the War Grow More Vegetables for Victory

Plan your garden carefully. Work the soil thoroughly, and deep; make it very fine, leave no lumps.

Before planting give your garden a good heavy dressing of Wizard Brand Sheep or Cattle Manure. (It is dry and pulverized and seedless). Rake it in thoroughly. This enriches your soil, adds much needed humus. Mark out your rows straight then make the furrows, into which scatter evenly Victory Garden Fertilizer, then mix it in the soil with a hoe or rake—then plant Schell's Quality Seeds and watch them grow.

The best large podded Peas is Schell's "Good Times." It's big, deliciously flavored peas, make it a leading variety for using fresh, for canning and for freezing.

Schell's Bountiful Beans are early, stringless and yield very heavily.

The 2nd War Loan Starts April 12

13 billion dollars must be raised!

THE GOVERNMENT of the United States is asking us to lend it 13 billion dollars in the next few weeks. We can do it. And we must do it. Every American must realize the truth:

In this, our toughest war, we've made a good start. We've trained a lot of men—made a lot of weapons—built a lot of ships.

But it's only a start. No man or woman among us would contend for a single instant that we're doing enough now to win this war!

We've Got to Build More!

We broke all records building 8 million tons of shipping last year. But grim-faced Army and Navy men will tell you that the 18 MILLION tons we're building this year still won't be enough!

We've Got to Fight More!

From now till this war is won, America must be on the offensive. In ever-increasing numbers, your sons, brothers, husbands must go into actual battle. Our losses have already begun to mount—and they will not grow less.

And We've Got to Buy More War Bonds!

Sure we're all buying War Bonds now. But we've got to help pay for our increased fighting and building . . . We've got to match, as best we can, the sacrifice of those Americans who are toiling and sweating on a dozen battlefronts—with the bloodiest yet to come. The blunt fact is this: to keep our war machine going, we've got to dig up 13 billion extra dollars this month. 13 billion dollars over and above our regular War Bond buying!

In the next few weeks you may be visited by one of the thousands of volunteers who are contributing their time and effort to this Drive. But don't wait for him. Make up your mind now that before this drive is over, you're going to march right down to your nearest bank, Post Office, or place where they sell War Bonds, and do your duty. And don't ever forget this: in doing your duty, you're doing yourself one of the biggest favors of your life!

For United States War Bonds are the greatest investment in the world—bar none. They're investments tailored to fit your particular situation. And they give you the chance of a lifetime to order and get the kind of world you want to live in after this war. Every cent you put in War Bonds now will help to guarantee plenty of peacetime jobs making peace-living for every one of us.

For your Country's sake—for your own sake—invest all you can!

There Are 7 Different Types of U. S. Government Securities—Choose The Ones Best Suited For You:

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

LINES FOR VICTORY BONDS

For all who live to ten years away
A word from one who lives today; Somewhere you'll find in vault or box

Or nook where stuff is safely stored,
Perhaps beneath some worthless
stocks,

(A loss we couldn't quite afford)
Some profitable bonds we bought While freedom's war was being fought.

You'll shake your heads, no doubt,
to see
The sort of trash which used to lure.

You'll smile and say what fools were we Then find our one investment sure.

Those bonds for freedom: Ten years old Matured, and just as good as gold!

Remember as those bonds you scan
By them was saved the freedoms four.

They armed and backed the fighting man.
They kept the tyrant from our shore.

Then on the instant voice the thought:
These were the best of all we bought.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

BADWILL THINKING

Two types of thinking occupy the mind of all mankind—Badwill, and Goodwill; It's the former that takes all the zest and beauty out of life.
You cannot be a Badwill thinker and be either healthy or happy.

The Badwill thinker harbors hate, suspicion, defeat. He pours no clean, fresh water upon the constructive forces of life. He harbors no hope, and the world might just as well be taken over by all the forces of reaction so far as he is concerned.

The bright picture comes about when you meet the Goodwill thinker.
He believes in the health of thought. He has proved how effective constructive thinking actually is, and how far reaching it is—how it effects every action put forth.
Every kind word of encouragement is an uplift, for there are willing hands of thought to grasp it.

The Badwill thinker is one with a sick mind. And that is worse than a sick body, for it never fails to bring about the latter. On the other hand the mind has such a powerful hold upon the body that Goodwill thinking can lift it right out of its ills, aches, and errors. No one can read Emerson without coming to the conclusion that he was a wonderfully gentle and enlivened human being—as he was. His entire life was devoted to Goodwill thinking and his essays are among the most inspiring in all literature.

Every time that it has been my privilege to come in contact with Henry Ford, I am amazed at his grasp upon the essentials of great living. He lives simply and thinks simply—but there is depth to everything that he says. In his eightieth year he has the mind of an enthusiastic youth. Goodwill thinking has always been his habit. Just as it was in the case of his great friend Thomas Edison.

What an incentive to Goodwill thinking as the buds begin to bloom during this, another, glorious Springtime! No matter how tragic the events of war Nature doesn't change. It is forever renewing and bringing back beauty and its endless suggestions of hope to the human mind.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Right Focus."

Enough oil was supplied by the 1942 cotton crop to furnish every person in the United States with 16 pounds of food fat.

LAUNCH DRIVE TO CUT ILLNESS IN WAR INDUSTRIES

Harrisburg, April 5 (AP)—The Department of Health asked Pennsylvania physicians today to help a state-wide campaign to reduce time lost in war factories because of employees' illness.

Dr. Joseph Shilen, chief of the industrial hygiene division, said a highlight of the drive was a survey of medical facilities available in plants producing materials vital to the war effort. He reported surveys of factories in seven counties have been completed and said studies in nine other counties are nearing a finish.

Dr. Shilen asserted services of the state are available to help solve health problems of industries which lack adequate medical and nursing personnel, equipment and supplies.

Study 88 Plants
Urging doctors to assist the program, the division chief said plants were being asked to engage full or part-time physicians to supervise health work in individual plants.

Surveys have been completed in Luzerne, Lycoming, Lancaster, Dauphin, Chester, Clearfield and Blair counties and are being wound up in Cambria, Indiana, Erie, Allegheny, Philadelphia, Berks, York, Delaware and Lackawanna counties.

Dr. Shilen said that of 88 plants visited by departmental representatives in Lancaster county, only two had full-time physicians while five employed part-time doctors.

Infant Killed In Fall From Table

Jeannette, Pa., April 5 (AP)— Willard Gray frequently worried about children playing along the nearby railroad tracks.

As he placed his four-months-old daughter, Barry, on a pillow on the dining room table Saturday, he heard a child's cry outside his home and dashed to the window.

When he turned around, his baby girl was lying on the floor, fatally injured. She had fallen from the table and broken her neck, Coroner
H. Albert McMurray reported.

A soldier told them he was drinking at a bar with a girl and when he pulled out the bill to pay the check she picked it off the table, rolled it up and swallowed it.

She denies it but was booked for larceny and is being held.

SEE INDUSTRIAL REVIVAL AHEAD
FOR SCRANTON

By WICK TEMPLE

Harrisburg, April 5 (AP)—The State Department of Commerce today reported encouraging signs of an industrial revival in the Scranton area but foresaw a hard fight ahead to bring that city's production and that of Lackawanna county up to the state level as stimulated by war.

Twenty-eight new industries have been established in the district during the past 10 months, the department said, and inquiries for factory location in Pennsylvania constantly are being directed there because of the labor supply still available.

Senator James J. Davis (R-Pa.) declared last week that federal agencies handling war contracts have repeatedly refused to allot work to Scranton factories with the result that the city teams with unemployment at a time when manpower is vitally needed. Rep. Murphy (D-Pa.) predicted new industries will be established in the Scranton area "in the near future."

State Is Helping

The commerce department noted an exodus of labor from the district. It added, however, that "by the end of the year there will be a shortage of male labor in the area but still an ample supply of female labor."

"The department is doing all it can to alleviate the situation and will continue to do so," declared Secretary Floyd Chalfant.

The department reported Scrant-on's position as a labor supply area resulted from lack of war orders in that region "despite pleas and recommendations by the department as early as May of 1941 for location of war industries in a county normally producing $52,500,- 000 industrial products and $31,- 000,000 coal; with ample housing and labor, 14 types of textile industry and 23 types of metal production."

Labor Exodus

"Up to July of 1941," continued the commerce department statement, "war contracts represented only one and a half per cent of the county industrial capacity and are still abnormally low. This resulted in a labor movement out of the county. The exodus of male and female labor still continues, mainly male labor."

"But a return wave of industry seeking available labor and housing has begun. In addition to the 28 new industries, some conversions to war work were recently reported.
Two new tobacco plants in the area will employ 2,000 women."

"There is a labor shortage in some industries, particularly mining, where several thousand laborers and miners will be needed by the end of the year. Selective Service will make heavy demands on the male labor supply, probably twice as heavy as the industrial demand."

AP Cable Desk
Keeps Eye On World Events

(See Picture On Page 1)

Here is the Associated Press' description of the photograph appearing on Page One:

"The men who man the cable desk in AP's general office, New York, literally sit on top of the news.
Twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, Sundays and holidays AP cable editors sit at their typewriters before the cable printers relaying the world's news as it comes in sentence by sentence to Associated Press newspapers everywhere.

"Over one such printer may come the news from London, Cairo, Ankara, Moscow; over another the wireless dispatches from MacArthur's secret headquarters, Chungking, Burma, New Delhi, Alaska. In an ordinary day 25,000 to 30,000 words pass across this desk. And always there is just time to get a hot bulletin on the wires to the papers. Somewhere newspapers are going to press day and night. Often a bulletin is on the way to AP newspapers in less than a minute after it clicks in on the cable printers—faster if it's a flash.

"A corps of specially recruited experts receive and edit AP cable news, many of them former foreign correspondents in Tokyo, London, Paris, Berlin, Madrid and other world capitals. They are augmented by writers training for future foreign service.
There is a constant job of checking facts, names, locations, clarifying, supplying valuable background from their own experiences, editing radio reports, sifting the truth from the rumors, preparing the familiar "undated" war roundups as often as they are necessary throughout the day. Their tools are an extraordinary cable library containing everything from the Chinese Yearbook and foreign dictionaries to detailed maps of most sections of the world. And their thoroughness is everlasting."

Lived Through Two
Crashes In 24 Hours

Washington, April 5 (AP)—Second Lieut. Harvey L. Dunbar, Easton, Pa., a fighter pilot in the South Pacific area, survived two plane crashes in 24 hours, the Army Air corps has revealed.

In a New Year's eve bombing raid he swam to safety when his plane fell and sank while returning from a raid on a Jap base at Munda. The next day a rescue plane picked him up, but it crashed as it approached the harbor, killing the pilot and four crewmen, but Dunbar managed to reach shore again.

HUGE BERWICK
PLANT TO MAKE
M-5'S, MOUNTS

Washington, April 5 (AP)—The Berwick, Pa., plant of the American Car and Foundry company, where some 6,000 Wyoming valley workers have been laid off because of a drastic government reduction of M3 tank production, will be utilized for the manufacture of a number of M5 tanks, spare tank parts and the building of aircraft gun mounts.

Chairman Harry S. Truman (D-Mo), of the Senate committee investigating the national defense program, revealed the revised schedule for the huge Berwick plant in making public correspondence showing the production of the 13-ton tanks has been necessarily reduced by 80 per cent.

221 Are Dead

The Italian high command, in a communique broadcast from Rome and recorded by the Associated Press, said great damage was done to public and private buildings in both Naples, the fortress target, and in Syracuse, where railway sidings and moored seaplanes were attacked by Malta's fighter-bombers. Naples reported 221 dead and 387 injured.

Infantrymen of the U. S. Second army corps, which is headed by Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., put on a small-scale attack against a group of hills near the Gafsa-Gabes road and won them in hard fighting.

German Elite troops immediately counterattacked, but they were beaten off and the Americans held this new high ground, taking some prisoners.

Barely 40 miles to the east, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth army was inactive, officials said, and the communique did not mention this sector centered about the Wadi El Akarit, 20 miles north of Gabes.

Attack Convoy
In northern Tunisia around Medjez-El-Bab, so-called gateway to the Axis bridgehead of Bizerte and Tunis, British First army artillery duelled savagely with enemy guns and inflicted losses on concentrations of motor transport and infantry.

British and French patrols also were active in the north. Heavily Allied bombers soared over from the North African bases to smash the harbor and an airfield at Naples and hit several ships in the harbor, the communique said. In addition "many enemy aircraft on the ground were destroyed," it was announced.

(An Algiers radio broadcast recorded by the Associated Press in London said 100 fortresses were engaged in the raid on Naples, which was the first attack on the Italian mainland from French North African bases. The previous raids upon Italy herself have been made from British Middle East fields, Malta and Britain.)

Other bombers ranged over the Sicilian straits and attacked a convoy of small vessels, presumably taking reinforcements to the Axis forces in Tunisia. Two of the ships were set on fire and direct hits were scored on others. Eleven enemy aircraft were destroyed during the day's operations, the communique reported.

MADE ASSISTANT DIRECTOR

Washington, April 5 (AP)—Deputy Petroleum Administrator Ralph K. Davies announced appointment of Lucien P. Craig, formerly associated with the Gulf Oil corporation at Pittsburgh, as assistant director of the division of petroleum supply.

"OVERAGE" MEN MUST GET VITAL JOBS OR FIGHT

Washington, April 5 (AP)—In an order recalling the erstwhile "overage" group of potential fighting men, the government has told the nation's 30-45 year olds to get into war production or face the prospect of being drafted after May 1.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, Selective Service director, made public over the week-end a letter to local draft boards stating that the men in the older age group may be drafted unless they leave the list of "non-deferable" jobs after that date. His order amounted to an extension of the rule in effect for younger draft age men since April 1, which removed family or other dependency status as a deferment element for those in the less essential jobs.

April Quotas Cut
At the same time, what was termed an "administrative" reduction was made in the April draft quotas, but Selective Service officials indicated it was merely to level off the month-to-month induction rate, and added that the downward revisions in this month's calls would be made up later.

National headquarters gave no figures, but reports from various state headquarters indicated the reductions would range up to 20 per cent in some sections.

Man Shortage Opens Way For Handicapped

Pittsburgh, April 5 (AP)—P. D. Seybold, state rehabilitation supervisor, reports manpower shortages are gradually removing the bars for the physically handicapped in Pittsburgh industrial plants.

Since July civilian and war industries here have employed 234 physically-handicapped persons, compared with only 22 in the previous 12 months, Seybold said, adding:

"It's so amazing to have employers write and ask for workers. We could place 200 deaf workers right now if we had them. And there seem to be jobs for all handicapped who are skilled."

Home From Hospital On 9th Birthday

Holidaysburg, Pa., April 5 (AP)—Richard Drase's ninth birthday anniversary had greater significance than usual.

The boy returned home yesterday after more than a year in an Altoona hospital, recovering from burns he suffered in a lantern explosion at his home. His brother, Michael, was hospitalized three months and several other Drase children were slightly burned in the fire that followed the explosions.

Isolation Island

By JOHN C. FLEMING and LOIS EBY

Chapter 30

For a moment all other thought blotted out in Landa's mind but the one terrible realization. "Jim was shot!" She stumbled through the undergrowth toward him when he pulled himself to his feet, fell back against a tree and turned to shout at her.

"Landa! Keep him covered from that rock over there!"

Landa came to a dazed halt, her gaze obediently followed Jim's pointing finger. She saw Hansen running for the lowest point of the rocky promontory and waving wildly at the cruising speedboat. She had forgotten him entirely.

Jim's voice was raging. "Don—damn your lousy aim—get down there! They can't beach the boat—all you have to do is keep him from diving!"

Landa saw Don standing as dazed as she was, looking at her. He knew she had seen him. Then suddenly, Jim's shouts stung them into action. By a half a second they cut Hansen off from the promontory, raced him ahead of them into cover of the jungle to escape the submarine gun that went into action from the boat.

"Good work," grinned Jim as they came up to him.

Hansen gasped a snarling retort, his eyes desperately following the speedboat. It turned, skimmed back along the shoreline once more, then vanished out to sea.

Landa cried, "Jim—where are you hurt?"

"Just a scratch on my leg, but I think I'll need a little help going back."

They made a slow way back to the hacienda, Jim hobbling between Landa and Don, Hansen walking ahead in silence.

O'Shanessey strode in after they had Hansen locked in the storeroom and Jim propped on the sofa for treatment.

"What's all this?" His great voice boomed vibrant anger.

"Never mind," Jim said bluntly. "I'm putting you under 'arrest.' O'Shanessey, as soon as the Coast Guard arrives — for aiding and abetting a saboteur!"

"WHAT!!?" The Irishman's massive frame halted with visible shock. Then his laugh rumbled forth. Hansen's no saboteur! Even if he were, I'd like to see them arrest me on my own island! Abruptly he turned and struck a pan of hot water from Don's hands. "What do you mean lackeying for him!"

Landa kneeling beside Jim said sharply, "Get another pan of water, Maria." She turned and went on cleaning Jim's wound.

Apprehension softened O'Shanessey's voice. "Landa, girl, you were foolish in needlessly rushing out into danger. Now must you further exhaust yourself by doing servant's work?"

Landa looked up at him, pity and anger blended in her eyes. "My Jim." Of a sudden he smiled at her—a strange kind of a smile.

"Mike," she said. "I screamed at the right time." Her accusing gaze rested fleetingly on Don, then returned to O'Shanessey. "Besides," she added with sudden tenderness, "it's not 'servant's work' to care for—the one you love."

O'Shanessey quivered as though struck. "You don't know what you're saying!" he roared.

With sudden clenched fists, the old Irishman swung on his son. "You!" he yelled. "You stand there like a nunny!"

For the first time, his father's rage had no effect on Don. He faced him, a pale, sardonic smile on his haggard face. "I've lost," he said, "and I'm glad."

The words were almost a whisper, but even O'Shanessey was caught by the sudden fury in Don's eyes. "I'm glad — because I'm not fit to have her and you know it! You knew it — and you were going to hold it over me the rest of my life! It would have been hell for her and worse for me!"

"Shut up, you idiot!" cried O'Shanessey. He whirled around in sudden panic to Landa. "He's out of his mind," he shouted. "He doesn't know a thing he's talking about!"

"Oh, I don't!" Don laughed hysterically. "I don't know that I killed her father—and I tried to kill Jim Blair!"

"My father!"

Jim's arms went about Landa as she sank back against him. O'Shanessey shook with a tortured cry. "It's not true, girl! It's not true!" Slowly, as he faced them, his mighty shouts died. His voice held a note of honesty they had never heard.

"I swear, as your father was my only friend," he whispered to Landa, "what Don says is a lie. I let him think he killed your father—because I wanted to be sure he wouldn't get out of hand after he married you—want to follow any wild ideas you might bring back from school."

"You see—I was trying to protect my island. It was that your father and I quarreled over just before you came home. He told me that I and my island had always amused him. It might not amuse you—and there was to be no pressure on you to carry out our plans, in case you had changed your mind about marrying or living down here as your letters seemed to hint. He and I were riding that evening and, in a fit of temper, I tried to bring him around as I'd brought him around before—by threatening to ride down Devil's Slide."

"He tried to cut me off and his horse slipped and threw him. Don found him beside the gate there. He'd not closed it that day and thought he was responsible for his horse running through." The old Irishman was shaking his voice had died to a whisper.

O'Shanessey looked down at her face with the tears streaming down it, at her hand tightly clasped in anger blended in her eyes. "My Jim." Of a sudden he smiled at her—a strange kind of a smile.

LABOR LAWS TO HOLD SPOTLIGHT

Washington, April 5 (AP)—Labor legislation will occupy the spotlight in the House this week, and the course it takes is expected to depend largely on developments on the industrial labor front in the next few days.

After being sidetracked by the Rules committee for some time, the much-talked about Hobbs Anti-Racketeering bill was given the right of way and slated tentatively for consideration Thursday by House leaders. It may be taken up before then, depending on progress made with other subjects on the week's program.

Originally designed to amend the 1934 Anti-Racketeering act to permit Federal prosecution of individuals and labor unions for interference with interstate commerce, the bill introduced by Rep. Hobbs (D-

"You believe me," he said slowly, "but it's not enough, is it? Your father was right. You've got to have a world of a bigger size than the one I taught Don to believe in." He turned around to Don then with the same strange smile, and laid a huge hand on his son's shoulder. "I ask your pardon, lad," he said heavily.

Don smiled faintly, looking at Landa and Jim. "That's all right, Dad. Everything has turned out for the best, anyway."

The end.

Train Girls To Help Bashful Boys

Pittsburgh, April 5 (AP)—Three hundred Pittsburgh girls taking a course on how to entertain service men at the new canteen which opens here next month received this advice from a Navy man:

"You don't want to take care of the handsome boys. They'll get along. Look after the homely and bashful fellows."

"And don't call them gobs. They like to be called sailors or blue-jackets."

Ala.) may become the vehicle for some major labor restrictions.

Hobbs said he hoped it would be confined to its original scope, to write into the act definitions of "robbery" and "extortion" which would include interference with or intimidation of interstate truckers who do not hire local union workers to assist them.

Phillies Will At Least Be One Of Best Conditioned Outfits

COMMANDO TYPE DRILLS GIVING CLUB STRENGTH

By DILLON GRAHAM
Hershey, Pa. (AP)—Just to glance at the athletes in monkey-suits on the practice diamond here, you'd never suspect they are the ferocious Phillies, the cannonading Commandos, who will strike fear in the hearts of their National league rivals this summer.
No longer will they be the futile Phils. Never again will they be the punching bag of the league. New Owner Bill Cox's commando training, as directed by Harold Anson Bruce, will take care of that.
"I know nothing about baseball," admits Bruce, "but I do know that most of the players are not in top physical condition. You can see they're slow and lousy and overweight. They're not prepared to give their utmost."
New Tactics
Most clubs are going along this spring with the same conditioning practices they've used for years. But, with their new-style commando drills, the Phillies, physically, are going to be a new group of men. Or so Bruce says.
"I will guarantee that the Phillies will be the best conditioned club in baseball," he asserts. "Whether they have the playing talent to match the others, I don't know. But if the issue may be decided on physical condition, then the Phillies will win."
It is Cox who calls all this commando training. Bruce says his drills are just a collection of the best conditioning exercises he has found in a lifetime of physical training work throughout the world.
Grant and Groan
It's really a sight to see a big and heavy old veteran like Chuck Klein grunting and groaning through the exercises. But old and young, they like it. Bruce, a small man who doesn't look like his 37 years, coached track and physical education for years at Lafayette and Union colleges and in 1935 went to Austria to tutor that country's Olympic team.
The Phillies have tackled a funny name onto each of Bruce's exercises. Here are a few:
Monkey squat—athletes squat with one hand on ground.
Duck shake—shaking legs like a duck shakes off water.
Elephant walk—walking on hands and feet with back facing ground and abdomen on par with knees and chin.
Jingle jangle—shimmying and shaking body and arms like a burlesque stripper.
Gorilla hedgheop—jumping along from a squatting position.
Charley McCarthy pivot—jerking head around shoulders.
Seek Relaxation
Bruce's idea is to get every muscle working and loose, so that all are relaxed and there is no tightness. He says few athletes know how to breathe properly while sitting or running. That is, how to breathe so they will absorb the greatest amount of oxygen. So the Phils are learning to breathe, too.
Some ball players feel they must have a plug of tobacco in their mouths before they're ready to take the field. But that's out at the Philly camp here in Chocolate town. No tobacco chewing, Bruce says. It's bad!

Harris Enthusiastic
Bucky Harris, the new Phillies manager, is enthusiastic about Bruce's work. And Bucky also is enthusiastic about the Phillies' prospects. He doesn't expect a world beater but he doesn't expect a last place club either. He thinks Cox has done a fine job in these times in rounding up a half dozen pretty good new ball players for the club.
Harris plans to have Danny Murtaugh and Merrill May from last year's team at second and third. Babe Dahlgren, from the Dodgers, will play either first or short. Del Savio looms as the shortstop at present.
The manpower situation is better in the outfield where Bucky has Danny Littwhiler, Earl Naylor, Ron Northey, Klein and Paul Busby. The catching was strengthened when Tom Padden from Kansas City joined Tommy Livingston.
Adequate Pitching
While the pitching isn't anything to get excited about, Harris believes it will be adequate. He has Jack Kraus, a lefty who won 13 for Montreal; Al Gerheuser, another left-hander from Newark; big School-boy Rowe, who broke in with Harris when Bucky was managing Detroit a decade ago; Johnny Allen from Brooklyn; Charley Fuchs from Detroit; plus Si Johnson, Johnny Podajny and Walter Beck, who were with the Phillies last year, and Bill Webb from Atlanta.
"Everyone on the club, except Webb, played in AA ball or better last year. They're pretty fair players and I think they'll do all right," Bucky says.
Nothing else has been able to blast the Phillies out of the loop cellar but maybe commando training and Bucky's capable managerial hands will.

Boston Doesn't Worry Red Wings

Detroit, April 5 (AP)—It's the psychology of the thing—and not the Boston Hockey club—that is worrying Manager Jack Adams of the Detroit Red Wings today.
The big bad bruin was tamed in Olympia stadium again last night by a 4-3 score, a triumph that convinced Adams his team has more than enough power and speed to bring the time-honored Stanley cup back to Detroit for the first time since 1937.
Trailling 2-1 as they entered the last period, the Wings pumped three goals through sad Frankie Brimsek to make it two straight over the Bruins since the championship series opened. Two more victories, and the cup is theirs.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, April 5 (AP)—Probably you've heard about the mythical four-minute mile, but how about the two-minute 220-yard swim... That's one the swimming coaches argue about, and what brings it up is that Joe Wheatley, a coach whose optimism is shown by the fact that he once tried to make a swimmer out of this columnist, argues that Ohio State's Billy Smith is the boy who'll do it. "He has the stroke to do 2:02 or 2:03," says Joe, "and if he keeps on in competition a few years, I wouldn't be surprised to see him do 2:20 in two minutes."
... Bob Kipphut of Yale, agrees that it's something like a four-minute mile, "somebody will do it some day," and Mike Pepe, Smith's coach at Ohio State, adds that Bill doesn't figure that much speed, though Mike figures he'll reach 2:05 some day.

NO, NO NOSTALGIA
The other day Manager Al Weill offered Lou Ambers, former lightweight champion, a free ticket to Friday's Beau Jack-Henry Armstrong fight, and Coast Guardsman Lou turned it down flat. "I'd like to see Armstrong fight," Ambers explained, "but if he won I'd get that comeback feeling and you wouldn't let me try it." ... When Lou retired, you remember Weill signed him to a ten-year contract just to make sure there wouldn't be any comeback efforts.

CUSTOMERS TOO
When, and if, Gunder Haegg gets here next summer As Bushnell has no intention of trying to match him against Greg Rice in a revival of the Princeton invitation track meet. ... Hearing a rumor that he might try it, Bushnell wisecracked, "When you have one, you have to invite a few customers, too." ... Al Tiedemann, who is trying to make the grade as third baseman with the Baltimore Orioles, already is a big leaguer. He's a star performer on the Baltimore Americans soccer club. ... When Adolph Kiefer finally was beaten in a backstroke swimming race Saturday, it was his first defeat in something like 250 races. Adolph admitted he had lost track of his victory string some time ago. ... Carl Snavely is planning to start summer football practice at Cornell after a new group of Navy students arrives in July.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR
Les Goates, Salt Lake City Desert News: "Trainers in the northern spring baseball camps are beginning to realize more than ever that a pitcher is no stronger than his weakest link."

SERVICE DEPT.
Lieut. Lewis A. Anderson, former Cornell oarsman reported killed in action last month, is safe, according to word his parents have received from the War Department. ... Lieut. Jesse Hill, former Yankees, Senator, and Athletics outfielder, has been appointed baseball coach at the Navy's Del Monte, California, Pre-Flight School. But so far no ball field has been built on the campus. ... Other recent officer arrivals at Del Monte include Ensigns Art Mahan, Villanova and Phillies; Parker Hall, Tennessee and Cleveland Rams, and Jack Baer, Oklahoma baseball coach, and Lieut. Albert Humphries, Bucknell coach, who will head the football department. ... Tarrant Field, Texas, has so many good baseball players, including Dutch Meyer from the Tigers, that the left-over may fill in the lineups of Fort Worth amateur teams this summer.

QUICK EXIT
Pvt. Edwin Meyers, Army MP, was given a four-day leave to compete in the AAU swimming championships. He started in the first heat of the 220, opening event of the meet, and halfway down the course he lost his trunks and had to quit racing to dive for them. ... "Oh, well," he commented as he climbed out of the pool, "it's a change from riding trains and checking up on passes."

DOLPH CAMILLI, ARKY VAUGHAN JOIN DODGERS

By JUDSON BAILEY
Brooklyn, April 5 (AP)—Dolph Camilli and Arky Vaughan, the California ranchers, are scheduled to join the Brooklyn Dodgers late today and Manager Leo Durocher probably couldn't be any happier to see them if each brought a suitcase filled with sirlon steaks.
After three weeks of training the Dodgers' infield still is as much of a puzzle as it was the day the club reported. Durocher has known all along, of course, that Camilli and Vaughan would be available and would fill two of the regular infield roles when the season opens April 21.
But their absence, because of personal affairs, has represented a tremendous handicap to any attempt to organize the Brooklyn inner defense.

Glossop Must Hit
Arky, who was a shortstop for ten years at Pittsburgh, played third base for the Dodgers last year. Now he probably will have to move back to short, filling the void left by Peeewe Reese's enlistment in the Navy. This involves second baseman Billy Herman switching to third base and depends on Albie Glossop or Alex Kampouris making good at the keystone position.
Glossop must prove he can hit before establishing himself as the regular second sacker. With the Phillies last year he batted .225 and in the two week-end exhibitions with the Red Sox he failed to get a safety.

Tri-State Names Edgcombe Head
Pittsburgh, April 5 (AP)—The Tri-State association for selection of basketball officials has named as its president A. C. Edgcombe, director of athletics at Geneva college. He succeeds Wilbur (Fats) Henry, athletics director at Washington and Jefferson.
Pay rates of officials were increased. A man working a game alone will get $18 instead of $15 and where two officials work, each will receive $15 instead of $12.50.

Red Francis, Golf Pro, Joins Army
Altoona, Pa., April 5 (AP)—William (Red) Francis, golf pro at Blairmont County club, Holidaysburg, was inducted into the Army Saturday.
One of western Pennsylvania's outstanding golfers, he formerly was pro at Juniata Valley, Tyrone and Bellefonte Country clubs.

UTICA TO TRAIN
Utica, N. Y., April 5 (AP)—The Utica Braves, new member of the Eastern League, will train at Cooperstown, New York, site of baseball's hall of fame. Among players recently purchased and ordered to report for the first drills April 17 are Richard Ahrensens, seven-foot hurler from Oil City; First Baseman Cecil Tyson, 6 foot 5, from Hagerstown, Maryland; Warren Houston, Wilkes-Barre second baseman last year; Marvin Pelton, outfielder from Wilmington, Del., and Lee Riley, outfielder from Memphis.

LAZZERI A MANAGER
Wilkes-Barre, Pa., April 5 (AP)—Tony Lazzeri, former New York Yankee second baseman, was named playing manager of the Wilkes-Barre Barons of the Class A Eastern baseball league yesterday. Lazzeri, who led Portsmouth to the Piedmont league pennant last year, is expected to report from his San Francisco home in time to start spring training April 12.

PITT STAR IN NAVY
Pittsburgh, April 5 (AP)—Bobby Larue, mite halfback star of the Pitt Panthers in 1934-35-36, has been ordered to report at Williamsburg, Virginia, for assignment in the U. S. Navy. The young Oakland dentist was sworn in January 2 as a lieutenant (jg).

Spears Takes Maryland U. Coaching Job

Clarence 'Doc' Spears (right), veteran football coach, explains a play to Dr. H. C. 'Curly' Byrd, president of the University of Maryland, at College Park, Md., as Spears arrives to take over the coaching post held last fall by Clark Shaughnessy, new Pittsburgh grid mentor. Spears comes to Maryland from the University of Toledo and previously coached at Minnesota, Wisconsin and other mid-western schools.

Montgomery Meets Alvarez Tonight

Philadelphia, April 5 (AP)—Bob Montgomery risks a title bout with Lightweight Champion Beau Jack in meeting Roman Alvarez of New York in a 10-round bout here tonight.
Montgomery, Philadelphia negro who is scheduled to face Beau Jack for the title on May 21 in New York, ruled a 3 to 1 favorite principally because of a decisive victory over Lulu Costantino in his last outing.
It is the first Philadelphia appearance for Alvarez, who has beaten Bobby Ruffin, Terry Young and Ellis Phillips in scoring 11 knockouts and 23 decisions in 38 starts.

FARM LEADERS EXPECT TO BEAT BANKHEAD VETO
Washington, April 5 (AP)—A farm bloc nose count indicated to the administration might muster upwards of 30 votes to sustain President Roosevelt's veto of the Bankhead bill and the measure's sponsors remained confident the Senate would override.
Faced with the task of obtaining two-thirds approval of those voting to make the bill law over the President's opposition, the farm leaders were much more apprehensive of their chances in the House.
Administration lieutenants are counting on a heavy "city" vote there if they fail to get one-third support in the Senate to kill the measure, which would prohibit the deduction of government benefit payments from parity in establishing agricultural price ceilings.
Although Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.), author of the measure, declined to forecast the result when consideration of the veto begins in the Senate tomorrow, Senator Aiken (R-Vt.) said he was satisfied the administration could count no more than 30 votes if all 96 members were present and recorded.
"Rule by Law or Decree"
Four national farm organizations, citing this act in urging that the President's veto be overridden, declared the basic issue is "whether we shall have government by law or by executive decree."
In a joint statement, the National Grange, the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, and the National Cooperative Milk Producers Federation said:
"It is apparent that once more agriculture is to be used as the whipping boy to further appease the wage demands of organized labor and to divert attention from the real source of inflation. ...
"In view of the grave food shortage now confronting the country, we believe it is time to stop kicking the farmer around and to fix the blame for inflation where it properly belongs."

Pace Bill Up
Meanwhile, the Senate Agriculture committee arranged to start hearings tomorrow on another controversial parity measure, the House-approved Pace bill which would boost agricultural price ceilings by requiring the inclusion in them of all farm labor costs.
Price Administrator Prentiss Brown has said the bill would increase living costs 10% per cent.

MT. LEBANON WINS
Pittsburgh, April 5 (AP)—Mt. Lebanon ran away from 13 other high schools to amass 62 points and win the 10th Tri-State coaches association relay carnival Saturday. Boardman high of Youngstown, Ohio, was second with 32 098.5. Other scorers included Alliquippa, 12, Freedom 10.

Training Camp Briefs

By The Associated Press
Muncie, Ind.—With their second game against Cleveland cancelled because of weather conditions yesterday, the Pittsburgh Pirates today planned an intrasquad game before entraining for Indianapolis and a resumption of their series with the Indians on Tuesday.
Huck Geary, rookie shortstop, has informed club officials he will give up his war job at Buffalo and join the Bucs not later than Thursday.
Wilmington, Del.—Frankie Skaff, rookie infielder from Villanova college, may be the second baseman for the Philadelphia Americans for some time to come. Getting into yesterday's brush with the Phillies because Irving Hall complained of a sore arm, he slapped out a homer, double and single, and handled eight chances without an error.

REDS BEAT BACK NAZI THRUSTS
Moscow, April 5 (AP)—Supported by tanks and large air forces, the Germans battered at Soviet defenses northeast and southeast of Kharkov despite a lull on most other fronts, but the Russians announced today they had beaten back these attacks and added 200 more dead Germans to the toll of 1,000 which the midnight communique reported slain in the region south of Izum.
Apparently clinging to bridgeheads on the southern bank of the northern Donets in this sector where the river flows in an easterly direction, Red army units have knocked out approximately one third of the attacking enemy ground forces in every recent assault, recent front dispatches said.
Spring Farming
The Germans are trying to capture the bridgeheads at any cost, but the Soviet command attaches equal importance to them and is determined not to surrender them. The Russians used similar bridgeheads in the District of Serafi-onov on the western bank of the Don river as a springboard in their spectacular winter offensive.
The mid-day communique said Soviet artillerymen repulsed enemy tank attacks against the Izum bridgeheads overnight, knocking out six German tanks and killing about 200 Germans. Izum is about 70 miles southeast of Kharkov.
There were no dispatches concerning current military operations in Moscow papers today, but several stories told of farmers near the front lines preparing for the spring season to the accompaniment of heavy artillery booming in the distance.
